Day 2: 08.11.2021

'The mind is not a vessel to be filled but the fire to Ignited' in order to ignite the young prospective teachers mind the Faculty of Education organized the second day Deeksharambh- Student Induction Program by Ms.A.Mridhula, Asst. Prof., Saint Thomas College of Arts and Science, Chennai on 8.11.2021at 10.30 a.m. had an insight on 'Application of Psychology Principles in Educational Settings'. The session started with a congenial welcome. The guest was welcomed with a brief introduction. The resource person detailed on the process of psychological principles, 20 different mindsets, zone of proximal development, challenge the learning ability by open ended questions and after the assessment the feedback should be a positive remark that induces the learning ability. Self-regulations in the class have to be modelled by the teachers, to motivate the students to set two goals such as performance and mastery and to develop intrinsic and extrinsic knowledge. The session also highlighted on assertive language to be possessed by the teachers to interact with the students, to focus on all the levels of wellbeing of the students and finally about the formative and summative assessment through which one can draw the conclusion of the learning ability of the students. The session was informative and thus it triggered the anxiety of the students with many questions which was addressed by the guest patiently. The session came to an end with the vote of thanks.

Day 4: 16.11.2021

Faculty of Education is highly privileged to share the report of the fourth day of Deeksharambh- Student Induction Program on 'Exploring High Quality Software Tools to Enhance Learning and Productivity' by an eminent person Mr. Deepak Gaba, co-founder Corpversity, Chennai on 16.11.2021 at 10.30a.m. The resource person triggered the young minds of the prospective teachers to be curious like cats towards learning and introduced the three useful software tools that supports teaching and learning.

- Trello- a project management tool for teachers which serves as a digital whiteboard
- Otter - a voice recorder which generates transcription of the text simultaneously.
- Google keep- that can be accessed for taking notes and setting reminders quickly.

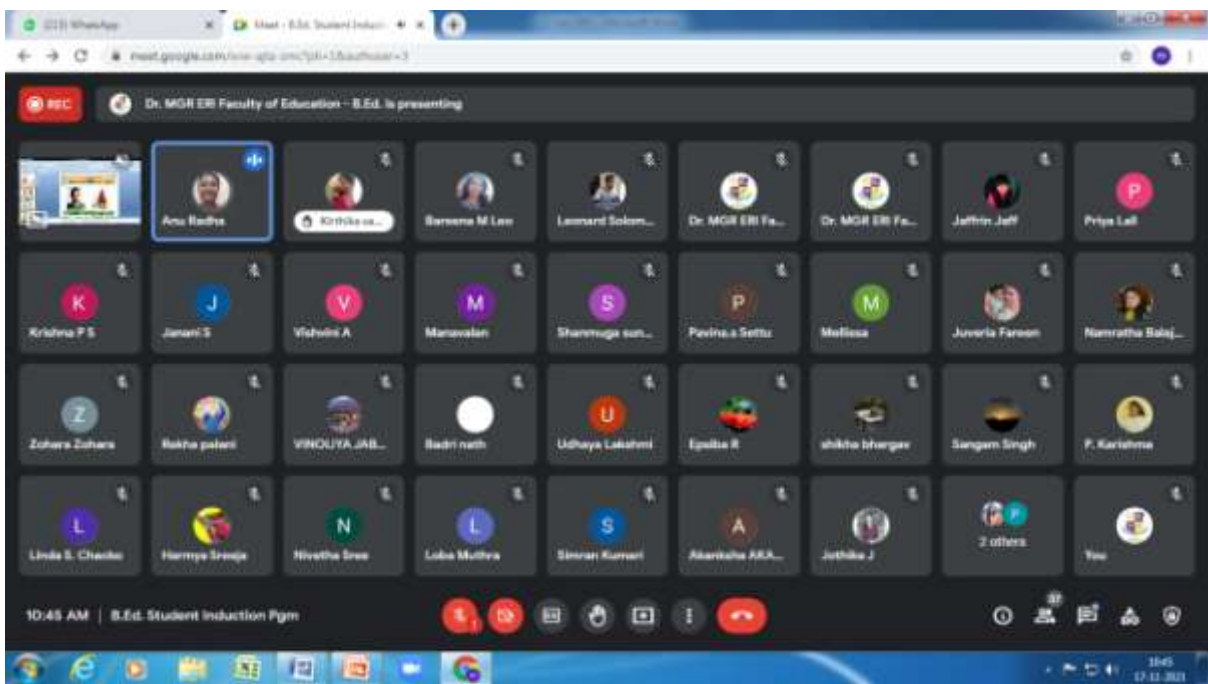

The session was an eye opener for the software tools which can be implemented in teaching learning program. Few queries from the students were addressed by the resource person. The session came to an end with the gratitude note.

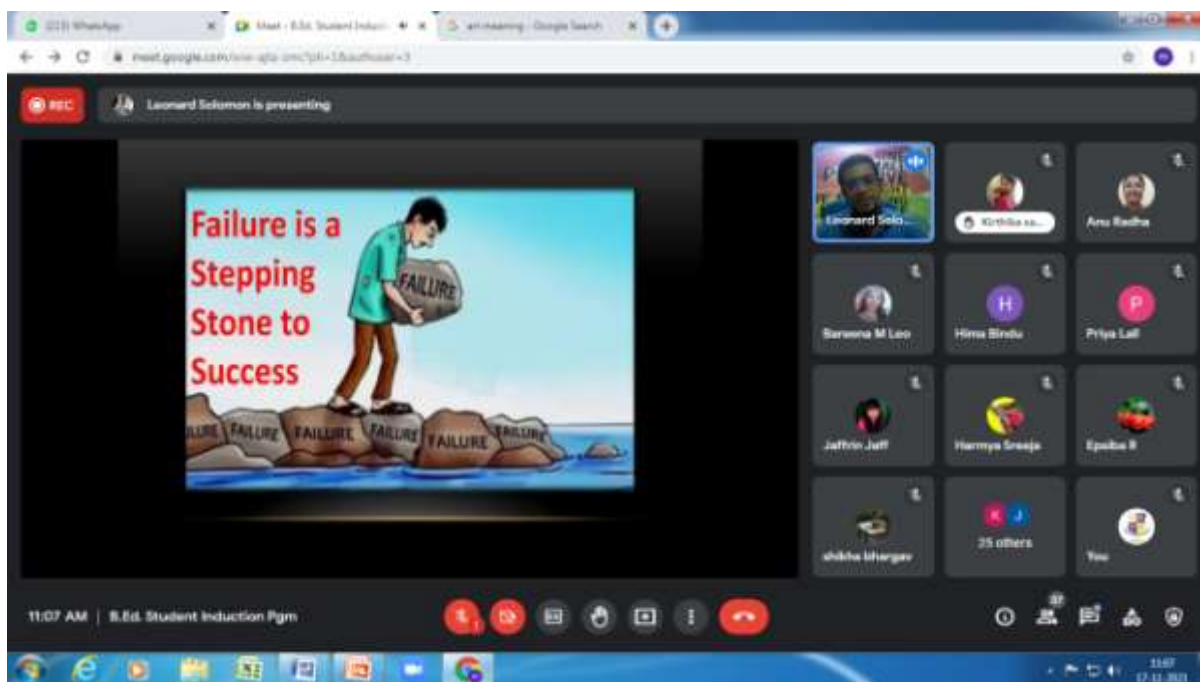

Day 5: 17.11.2021

Faculty of Education is pleased to share the report of fifth day of Deeksharambh- Student Induction Program on 'Art of Recovering from failure' by an eminent guest speaker, Mr. Leonard Solomon Asst. Prof & Head – BBA Mar Gregorios College of Arts & Science, Chennai on 17.11.2021 at 10.30am. The resource person started with an amazing story with a Moral, "Expectations and God's plan is different" which captured the attention of all the students which continued throughout the session with similar stories to make us understand even better and continued to make us understand "What Failure truly means". One needs to overcome failure by transforming Fear into Action since "Fear is the Friend of Failure". "Failure is the stepping stone to success". Though it does not give a good feel, it is a way to understand that it is not one's cup of tea. One needs to come out from the safe zone that one creates in their lives which again leads to failure; hence it is necessary to try to know the ability, strive and strive harder even after achieving the Goal and also to be optimistic. These words radiated positivity and clarity of oneself. The Resource person ended the session by inculcating a Mantra "I CAN, I WILL and I AM NOT USELESS, I AM UNIQUE, DIFFERENT AND SPECIAL. On the whole, the entire session was filled with Interaction, Motivation and positivity. We truly are in need of constant motivation and Mr. Leonard's session was a timely help.

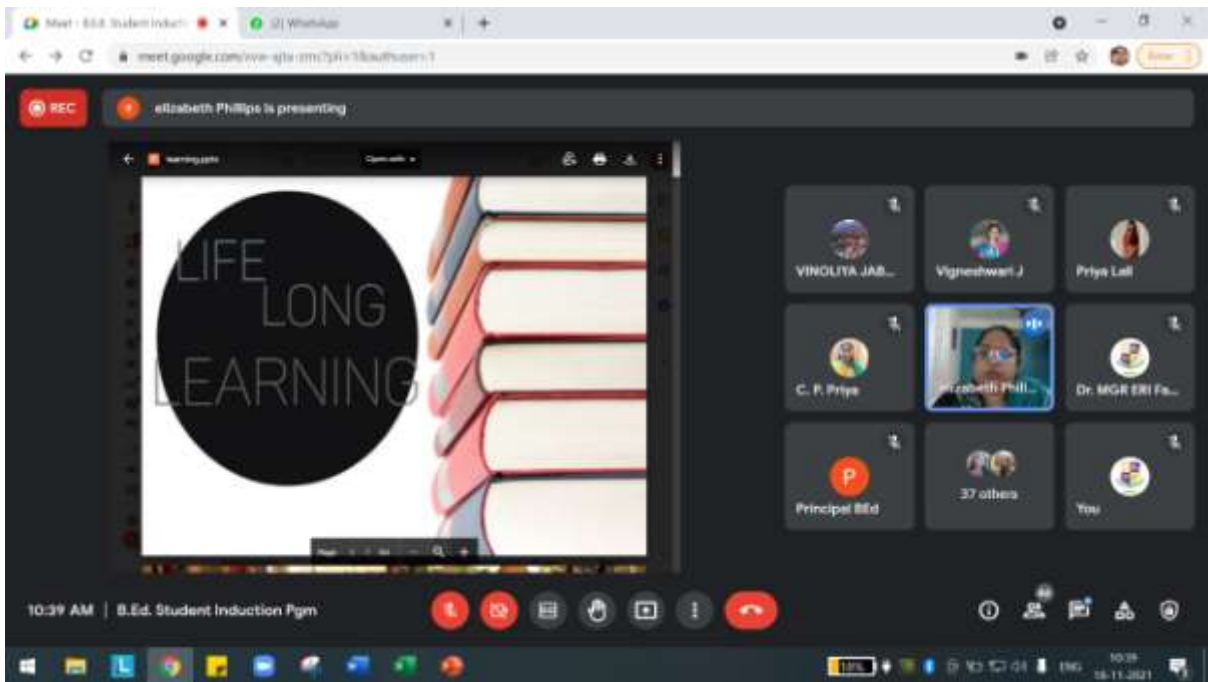

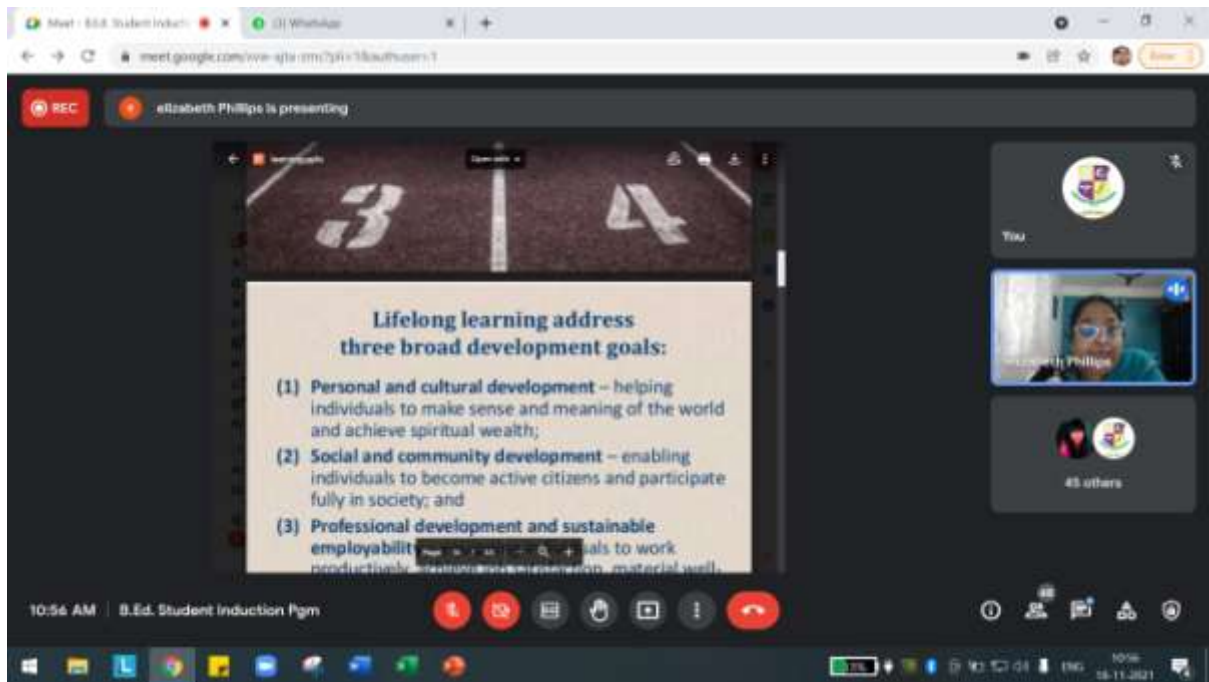

Day 6: 18.11.2021

The faculty is pleased to share the report of sixth day Deeksharambh- Student Induction Program on the topic ‘Life Long Learning: A Paradigm Shift’ by a notable resource person, Ms. Titty Elizabeth Phillips, Asst. Prof. & Head / Dean Dept. of History, Women’s Christian College, Chennai on 18.11.2021 at 10.30am. Though the topic was subject oriented, Ms. Titty handled the session with her professionalism which captured the eyes and minds of the students with a start, “Learning is a form of self-education”. The ideology of learning was beautifully explained where learning has evolved from fetching a job to “You learn, you do and You unlearn” where new knowledge becomes a necessity, reading becomes a routine and skill development becomes a support which leads to ultimate success in life that helps to break every obstacle. The resource person also discussed about the characteristics of lifelong learners as,

- Insatiable knowledge seekers
- Social learners
- Does not just absorb and memorize
- Acts as teacher to themselves

The learning pyramid gave detailed facts about the minds of lifelong learners where they tend to learn in depth the concepts taught or learnt. An insight on the expectations in IT field was also addressed which made all to understand the essentiality of lifelong learning. The following is the best words of encouragement for all the budding teachers, “Teachers dares to teach and never cease to learn”. Few queries were addressed by the resource person with the answers filled with guidance and compassion at the end of the session. On the whole, the session certainly nurtured and curated our minds with the spirit of learning and encouragement to become a successful teacher

The poster concludes with the quote: 'Teaching is the profession that teaches all the other professions'

Faculty of Education feels happy to share the report of the Valedictory session of Deeksharambh- Student Induction Program organized on 20.11.2021 at 10.30am by an outstanding guest speaker, Dr. R. Kumudhini, Principal i/c, Mahalakshmi Women's College of Arts and Science, Chennai. The resource person addressed all the passionate blooming teachers as 'The Architectures of the Nation' and continued to speak about the different aspects of life and how a teacher needs to be an inspiration as it is the teachers who creates profession. The necessity of Introspection was discussed to provide clarity and importance of knowing and understanding one's true self. This develops fairness, empathy, compassion and sincerity which leads to reach the ultimate place in life. Stories and scenarios were discussed with the students to bring out better understanding about the importance of introspection that leads to confidence as a teacher and as a person. "Teachers are the Catalyst of the Society". Dr. R. Kumadhini continued by referring teachers as a "Catalyst" since every student follows the steps of a teacher because of the impression he/ she creates. A teacher should value herself first to value the qualities of others and needs to be smart to handle the students who belong to the smart technology world. She also advised the students to decide right during every opportunity provided. She concluded her speech by educating about the 7 types of people that one should avoid in life to improvise in all aspects of life, which was a major guide to be followed for all the budding teachers.

7 Types of people to avoid,

1. Gossipers
2. Jealous
3. Time wasters
4. Money Grabbers
5. Over – Sensitive
6. Excuse makers.
7. Mis educated.

The Resource person was certainly a foundation for all the emerging teachers to reach greater heights both in personally and professionally.
